CASE COMPANY

The 180-year history of CASE Construction Equipment is a source of great pride and commitment.

Emerging in the late nineteenth century, the company formed around the innovative practicality of J.I. CASE in the field of steam engines. Over the following decades, the company began to pioneer equipment for road construction and in doing so helped to ‘pave the world’.

By the beginning of the early twentieth century, CASE had established itself as the leading manufacturer of construction equipment. Continuing to grow and prosper, CASE goes on building our business, our reputation and the world we live in.

You can take pride in the name on your CASE machine. It’s backed by more than a century of productivity and performance. CASE Construction Equipment and your CASE distributor are here for you, not only when you buy the machine, but also after you put 1,000 or 10,000 hours on it. More than that, you can count on CASE and your CASE dealer for the ultimate ownership or rental experience—productive equipment, expert advice, flexible financing, genuine CASE parts and prompt service.
